Cuban Workers call Massive Twitter Action for Anti-imperialist Event

20/09/2019

The Cuban Workers Federation (CTC) on Thursday convened a global message through Twitter for November 1 with the participants of the Anti-Imperialist Meeting of Solidarity, for Democracy and against Neoliberalism.

The CTC summoned this massive Twitter event as one of the actions that will accompany the start of the international anti-imperialism event that will take place in Havana until November 3.

Representatives of global social movements and friends of Cuba will meet in Havana in defense of peace, justice and democracy, according to Ulises Guilarte, secretary general of the Cuban Workers Federation.

The event includes activities such as an anti-imperialist tribunal at a Havana neighborhood and a work group at the Latin American School of Medicine.

Participants will meet in five commissions at the Havana's Convention Center, to analyze issues such as decolonization, democracy, solidarity and anti-imperialism.

A special moment will be the closing plenary session, which will be dedicated to the historical leaders of the Cuban and Bolivarian Revolutions, Fidel Castro and Hugo Chavez, respectively, as well as the just causes of the peoples in the world.
