

---

Young Venezuelans march for homeland

12/02/2020

Caracas, Feb 12 (Prensa Latina) With a Great Youth March Venezuela will commemorate the Day of Youth and the 206th anniversary of the Carabobo battle on Wednesday.

'This day, youths have decided to say yes to the homeland, yes to the struggle, yes to peace, yes to consolidation beyond ideas and yes to consolidation of a country project,' the vice president of the Youth Commission at the National Constituent Assembly (ANC), Eirimar Malave, told reporters.

Malave recalled the anniversary of the Carabobo battle and underlined that in modern times, the youths who inherited those revolutionary forces decided to be free and build a future through the Bolivarian Revolution.

She explained that the ANC has been mobilized nationwide, in each lyceum and university, to debate the draft bill on Youth Employment, aimed at incorporating that sector of society into the labor force.