
Raul Castro Meets President of Red Cross International Committee

26/11/2015

Cuban President Raul Castro met on Tuesday evening with Peter Maurer, president of the International Committee of the Red Cross, who is on a working visit to Cuba.

During the meeting, Raul Castro and Peter Maurer addressed the good state of relations between Cuba and the international institution and other issues of bilateral interest in the humanitarian field, Granma newspaper reported on Wednesday.

The talks were attended by the head of the regional delegation of the International Committee of the Red Cross for Mexico, Central America and Cuba, Juan Pedro Schaerer, and on the Cuban side was the minister of the Revolutionary Armed Forces Army Corps General Leopoldo Cintra Frias as well as acting foreign minister Marcelino Medina.