
Game of Thrones tops list of 2015's most pirated shows

28/12/2015

According to Torrentfreak, the season five finale was illegally downloaded 14.4m times. More than half of those came in the week after its US premiere.

The Walking Dead and The Big Bang Theory rounded up the top three, with 6.6m and 4.4m downloads respectively.

Earlier this year, Game of Thrones broke a record when more than 258,000 users shared the show simultaneously.

The HBO drama was mainly downloaded on BitTorrent.

The number of illegal downloads is almost twice the eight million people who regularly watch the show legally in the US.

The first four episodes of season five leaked online before they aired in April, after one pirate uploaded content from the DVD screeners sent out to critics for review.

Game of Thrones was nominated for 24 Emmy nominations in July and, earlier this month, was nominated for the Golden Globe for best drama series.

Series six is due to begin in April.
