
Camila Cabello leads on Spotify

24/12/2017

Cuban-American singer-songwriter Camila Cabello is today the female singer with the largest number of monthly listeners on the Spotify platform worldwide, according to Cubadebate.

Cabello broke the record this Saturday with more than 39 million listeners, which places her ahead of renowned artists such as Sia, Selena Gomez, Dua Lipa and Demi Lovato.

Recently the singer published two new tracks on digital platforms, an advance of her first solo album that will be released on January 12. Real friends and Never Be the Same are the titles of the songs that are added to the single Havana, the first advance of the album that has millions of views on YouTube and currently occupies the top of the charts of the United States, the United Kingdom, and Spain.

The phonogram entitled Camila will come into circulation through the labels Epic Records and Syco Music, and has a collaboration with British singer Ed Sheeran in The Boy.

Cabello is a Cuban-American singer-songwriter who was part of the Fifth

Harmony group, with whom she recorded two studio albums.
