

President Evo Morales Visits Cuba

---

23/04/2018

The President of Bolivia, Evo Morales, arrived yesterday in Cuba for an official visit.

He will meet the highest authorities of the Caribbean country.

As planned, the Bolivian leader will place a wreath to the National Hero Jose Marti on Monday and afterwards, Morales will have his reception and the official conversations with Miguel Diaz-Canel.

In the afternoon, the Bolivian president will visit the Center for Genetic Engineering and Biotechnology in Havana.

Morales is the second foreign leader who has visited Cuba since last April 19 Diaz Canel substituted Raul Castro as president of The Councils of State and Ministers.

The revolutionary Cuban leader, who finished this week his second term as the Head of the State and Government of the Caribbean nation, will continue as the First Secretary of the Communist Party of Cuba up to 2021.

