
US-Elections: Candidates with Brothels

28/06/2018

Denis Hof, owner of seven brothels looms as possible Parliament member in the State of Nevada.

Thus informed last Sunday in Vegas the Spanish news agency EFE.

Hof, 71 years old, owns brothels in the states of Nye and Lyon, north of Nevada where prostitution is high and besides he is the star of the group "just adults" Cathouse of the HBO company.

Denis Hof owner of the brothel Love Ranch, where in 2015 was found unconscious after several party days the former NBA player Lamar Odom, as well as the Moonlite BunnyRanch, where the series Cathouse is shot, he's been declared admirer of President Donald Trump, to whom he considers it's his main political inspiration.

Hof declared in an interview to Rolling Stone magazine: "He is the Christopher Columbus of politics. Everything I do is to follow him into the new world."

Besides he also revealed that Roger Stone was his consultant months ago.

Stone was former consultant of Donald Trump's electoral campaign in 2016.

The case of Hof holds similarities with the current tenant of the White House.

Donald Trump and Denis Hof have landed into politics in the same way: inexperienced, accused of sexual harassment and they both deny the accusations of two women who had sexual intercourse with them.

Hof declared to The New York Times: "I am with 540 girls in an environment with intense sexual burden and that is not a problem for me."

In mid-term elections, next November voters from Nevada will decide if they close the brothels in at least one of the seven counties.

In this regard Hof estimates that this type of business “would not only stand but rather will strengthen.”

Denis Hof, also author of the book The Art of the Pimp will contest in the elections of November against the democrat Lesia Romanov, educator with more than two decades of work and green in politics.

Hof, if not chosen, will think to continue in politics and he even considers getting to the government of Nevada.

There is another golden difference among the cases of Cuba, United States and other countries of the area.

Because never, in the first case, a character like Denis Hof would have the slightest opportunity to attain a government position.
