

Baseball5 shines at MLB all star week

17/07/2018

WBSC new street 5on5 concept made its debut in the United States last Saturday.

WBSC featured its new urban concept Saturday evening in the Play Ball park set up by the Major League Baseball (MLB) in the occasion of the 2018 All Star Game. There representatives of the WBSC introduced the new discipline to baseball fans and to the general public.

Participants demonstrated genuine interest towards the game and what started as a demonstration turned into an open event with kids of all ages teenagers and adults playing the game all at once for few hours.

New WBSC discipline proved to be an easy, fast and intuitive pick up game. In traditional baseball/softball countries like the United States, Baseball5 can easily serve as social catalyst to help connection generations and communities.
