At the end of the year 2010 in Cuba began to talk of updating economic and social; the international crisis and not a few internal deficiencies that would stop the development of the society, led us to rethink many policies, in a process that, as we live now with the constitutional reform, we are all involved.

It was thus that the guidelines of the economic and social policy of the party and the revolution, in which are contained the guidelines of the country to consolidate socialism were established the Cubans to build from the first of January 1959.

The last two congresses of the Communist Party have been emphasizing the implementation of these changes, gradually, according to the created conditions, slowly but surely, as he has expressed the Army General Raúl Castro Ruz, first Secretary of the Central Committee.

Economic highlights, for example, the improvement of enterprise system, fiscal and monetary policy, foreign investment and the promotion of investments into the production sphere and the services, fundamentally.

From the social point of view, is still giving the utmost importance to the health, education, sport, culture, social security, employment and wages, rights all won and which is always supported in the budgets of the State.

Everything that has to do with the national life is reflected in the document, which includes also the development of agro-industry, transport, tourism, energy, buildings, housing, hydraulic resources and trade.

Several issues contained in the guidelines have already been put into practice, others are implemented in this minute and a minimum percent expected because there are factors appropriate for your application, but the most important thing is that the will is expressed in them of the direction of the country and the people, to achieve economic development and the satisfaction of the needs of the people.

Everyone from our work jobs impact and responsibility in this process, so it is important that how much do is with the required quality, complying with the State order and parameters established for each activity.

In the draft Constitution that we discuss these days, are contained under amendments to update the Cuban economic model, derived from the guidelines, therefore, with our opinion, we will be ensuring that they are in the Magna Carta implicit questions that ensure the future.

The road is traced, only depends on the men that these ideas come to life at the foot of the letter and with the desired effect, which is without a doubt the progress of our socialist society and the permanence of a revolution that is all, and for the good of all.
