
Millions across South America hit by massive power cut

16/06/2019

Millions of people across Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay and southern Brazil were left without power early on Sunday after a massive power failure hit all four countries.

The outage was caused by a failure in the electrical interconnection system, energy company Edesur Argentina said on Twitter.

The outage happened at about 7am local time, 12pm GMT.
