
First Exhibition of Cuba in Moscow to kick off tomorrow

17/09/2019

The Cuba Chamber of Commerce organizes the First National Exhibition of Cuba in Moscow, to be held from September 18 - 20, 2019, in Expocentre- the largest fairground of the Russian capital.

In an area of 600 square meters, about fifty Cuban entities will promote the export of their products and services, as well as the presentation of foreign investment projects with greater opportunities in the Russian market of the main sectors of the Cuban economy, including agro-industry; food and drinks; science, technology and environment; medical services; products, services and technologies of the biotechnology and pharmaceutical industry; culture, mining and energy, tourism, construction and services.

In that same context it will take place the 10th Session of the Cuba-Russia Business Committee, which provides for the realization of a Business Forum and the signing of the Action Plan for the period 2019–20.

The Cuban Exhibition in Moscow is part of the activities for the 60th anniversary of the restoration of diplomatic relations between Cuba and Russia that will be commemorated next year.

This exhibition is an expression of the close economic and commercial ties between these two countries.
