
Gazans rally against Washington's so-called Deal of the Century

28/01/2020

Angry protesters marched in the Gaza Strip against Donald Trump's so-called Deal of the Century. They rallied in front of the United Nations Special Coordinator's Office for the so-called Peace Process (UNSCO).

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu and his election challenger Blue and White party leader Benny Gantz flew to Washington Sunday for the presentation of what Trump himself has dubbed the "Deal of the Century."

The details of the deal have not been officially revealed, however, leaks suggest it would grant the Israeli regime full sovereignty over occupied Jerusalem al-Quds and the West Bank.

As they chanted slogans against the United States protesters in Gaza also burned an effigy of the U.S. president. They also called for armed resistance to fight the so-called deal of the century.

Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas has boycotted Washington since U.S. President Donald Trump recognized East Jerusalem as Israel's capital in 2017.

The Islamic Jihad movement called for a united Palestinian stance to confront all Israeli and U.S. plots against the Palestinian people. More protests will take place throughout Palestine in the coming days as anger continues to build up over what Palestinians have described as the plot of the century.

Palestinians view U.S. President Donald Trump's so-called deal of the century as a declaration of war against them. They say they will use all forms of resistance against it.
