
Cuba against Brazil in the U-21 Men's World Volleyball Championship

10/09/2015

Cuba will face Brazil on Friday in the first round of group C in the U-21 Men's World Volleyball Championship, event that will bring together 16 teams in several Mexican cities.

According to the website of the event, the Cubans will debut against Brazilians to then face Chinese and Iranians on Saturday and Sunday, with a stage in Mexicali, city which will also host Group D made up by France, Italy, Japan and Slovenia.

Canada, Egypt, Mexico and Turkey (A) and Argentina, Poland, Russia and the United States (B) will play in Tijuana.

The opening day program is completed with the matches Turkey-Canada, Russia -Poland and Italy-Slovenia.

The first two teams of each group will form the pools E and F to the next phase, and the leader of each one will advance directly to the semifinals.

The second preliminary round will begin on day 12th, and the third and final on 19th, as the medal discussion will be on September 21st.