
Adele Sings 'Water Under The Bridge,' Slays Another Late-Night Performance

24/11/2015

The 27-year-old singer stopped by "The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon" on Monday night and sang the third single off her new album, called "Water Under the Bridge."

"Every song is fantastic," Fallon said of "25" before introducing Adele. "What a great record."

Adele first debuted "Water Under the Bridge" at her Radio City Music Hall performance last week. In an interview with DJ Zane Lowe of Beats Radio One, Adele spoke about the song, which is about her longtime partner, Simon Konecki.

"'Water Under the Bridge' is more like, I'm waiting for him to be horrible but I don't think he's gonna be, waiting for the relationship to end," said Adele to Lowe. "This is the relationship now that I'm gonna be in. It was quite a groundbreaking moment."

Adele's third album has already sold more than 2.3 million copies in three days. Over the weekend, she delivered a pitch-perfect performance on "Saturday Night Live" -- her isolated vocals prove it.