

---

Maduro Praises Brotherhood and Cooperation bt. Cuba and Venezuela

18/03/2016

In a statement to the press, shortly after his arrival at the Jose Marti International Airport in Havana, where he was received by the Cuban First Vice President, Miguel Diaz-Canel, Maduro stated that the reason for his trip to the Caribbean island was for a scheduled review of bilateral agreements, which will be in place until 2030.

"All economic, financial and energy cooperation between Caracas and Havana, as well as in the framework of the Bolivarian Alliance for the Peoples of Our America and other mechanisms of regional integration are included in them," the President said.

The President, who will meet his counterpart Raul Casto was accompanied by the Venezuelan Foreign Minister, Delcy Rodriguez.