

---

Film Comandante by Oliver Stone to Be Shown in Bolivia

17/08/2016

The documentary film "Comandante" by US film director Oliver Stone will be screened today in La Paz as part of the celebrations for the 90th birthday of leader of the Cuban Revolution, Fidel Castro.

The screening of a film series entitled 'Fidel, hombre de principios' (Fidel, a man of principles) has started since August 10, which is organized by the committee '90 años de Fidel'.

The tributes began with the world premiere of the documentary film 'Gabo y Fidel, una amistad entrañable' (Gabo and Fidel, a close friendship), by Colombian Lisandro Duque, which reflects the fraternal relationship between the Cuban revolutionary leader and Colombian writer Gabriel Garcia Marquez.

The film series included the screening of 'Momentos con Fidel' (Moments with Fidel) by Rebeca Chavez and 'Fidel, la historia no contada (Fidel, the untold story) by Estela Bravo.