

Cuba Reaches Three Million Foreign Visitors

11/10/2016

Cuba reached three million foreign visitors so far this year, said today in a statement the Ministry of tourism (Mintur) in this country.

The note points out that such data are managed this Saturday, 39 days before compared with 2015.

This represents a cumulative growth of 12 percent, so the destination Cuba reinforces its position in the world tourism stage.

This result was possible thanks to the work of the workers of this industry on the island, and the cooperation of many sectors of the economy, outlined.

It insists the text that also influenced considerably so much the support of international partners, and particularly the support of the government and the people of Cuba, protagonists of the development of tourism in the archipelago.

This increase in the number of foreign visitors, represents a commitment to achieve superior results in the management, work for the improvement and continuous diversification of recreational product, and raise the quality of service, stresses the Mintur.

The maximum objective is to increase the results to make a greater contribution to the development of Cuban, concluded the statement.

Cuba currently boasts more than 62 thousand rooms in about 300 hotels distributed all over the country, most categories four and five-star, who joined private accommodation that coordinate efforts with the authorities.
